THE EXTRADITION IMBROGLIO-AN EARLY SITTLEMENT TO BE PRESSED BY THE WASH-INGTON GOVERNMENT-THE MUDDLE GROW-CABINET-OUR EXTRADITION RELATIONS WITH

It is intended by the State Department to have an immediate settlement of the extradition question, and t is understood that the despatch of Secretary Fish, ch went over by Wednesday's steamer, shall produce a decision in England without further discus There will therefore be no delay on account of the ap-pointment of Mr. Pierrepont, who does not mean to sail until after the 1st of June. The long delay made by the British government embarrasses our extradition relations with the Canadian government. The authorialways, and even very recently, interpreted the t find any fault with our claims, but the contrary. But they are probably bound by the course of the Brithowever unwillingly, to include Canada as part of the British dominions in its dealings under treaty obligations. There are now held in this country one or two persons charged with serious crimes, one at least with murder, whose surrender under the Extradition Treaty is asked by Canada. There is every disposition to give them up, but compliance with the Canadian decide whether it means to observe or to violate the Ex-have been made to the British government by some of its representatives in other countries that if England effect of local laws upon treaties she may experience trouble in pending negotiations with other European Powers, as, for instance, Spain. In fact, the muddle into which the British Ministry have got themselves a the Winslow matter threatens to produce trouble for them in various quarters. The Canadians will be very much dissatisfied if the course of Lord Derby

Several attempts to, form a new extradition treaty tween this country and England have tailed in recent years, for different reasons, alt being objections made by the British authorities, whose aim seems to be to sist that such a treaty shall be made subject to the interpretation of an act of Parliament, which, of course, is inadmissable. It has been proposed to specify in the treaty that a person surrendered shall be menable to trial for any of the offences mentioned and made excaditable in the treaty and for non others. This very reasonable and proper proposition

THE BELKNAP JURISDICTION QUESTION-PRESENT ATTITUDE OF THE DISCUSSION-STRONG ARGU-MENT ON THE NEGATIVE SIDE.

The impeachment question hangs are in the Senate, here being still some long speeches to make, but the arguments of those who believe that the Senate has so jurisdiction are evidently having effect, as it is generally believed that within three or four days the najority for jurisdiction has diminished, and, at this time, report says the Senate is very nearly equally di-The argument that an officer ought act to be allowed by his adroid and timely resignation to evade the pun'shment which can be inflicted by conviction on impeachment, is met by the provision of sections 5,501 and 5,502 of the Revised Statutes. The first section provides that:-

The next section provides that:—

The next section provides that:-Every member, officer or person convicted under the provisions of the two preceding sections, who holds any place of profit or trust, shall forient his office or place and shall thereafter be forever disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States.

Mr. Belknap is now under indictment and it is held tion, that impeacement has for its purpose mainly re moval from office, and that the disqualification which conviction on impeacement may bring is also provided for in the statute, and will fall on Mr. Belknap if he is convicted by the jury on his civil trial; that therefore he does not escape the graver political punishment, sisqualification, even if he is not tried by the Senate. This argument is found to have great force with Sena-tors, it is said.

WASHINGTON, May 24, 1876. A ROMOR CURRENT REGARDING THE RESIGNA-

TION OF SECRETARY ROBESON. A rumor is current here at midnight that Secretary tobeson has tendered his resignation to the President, out that the President declined to accept until the Saval Affirs Committee of the House had passed spon the matters investigated by them affecting the administration of the Navy Department.

THE AUSTRIAN MISSION—SKETCH OF THE NOM-INEE FOR THE POSITION. General Edward F. Beale, who was to-day nominated by the President to be Minister to Austria, though at present a resident of Washington, hved until within the last two years at Chester, in Pennsylvania, and was for many years before a prominent resident of Cali-jornia. He was in early life an officer of the navy; which resulted in the capture of California, and for brilliant service was made bearer of the despatches which first announced that event to President Polk and brought over the earliest specimens of gold from California to the East. He was afterward employed with Kit Carson, Fremont and others in public surveys, and crossed the Continent several times to lay ent of Indian Affairs in California and New Mexico where he won praises for his success in managing the Indians; was commissioned Brigadier General of Cali-forms to complete an Indian war; was detailed by the Treasury Department to report upon the efficiency of camels upon the Western plains, and in 1861 was ap-pointed Surveyor General of California and Nevada; sent his resignation to President Lincoln with a request for active service in the army, but his resignation was not accepted. General Reale is a scholarly and accomplished man, speaks several languages and is a man of large wealth. Though he has not in recent years been in the public service part in the discussion of public questions, and was among the first in that State to urge in public speeches that the vote should be given to the colored people. More recently he has lived in Washington, in whose society his family are general favoritos. He comes of an old naval family, being a grandson of Commodore Truxton, and he was himself educated at the Naval

THE SINGER WILL.

TEXT OF THE NEWLY DISCOVERED TESTAMEN-

Under an order of the Supreme Court a copy of the will executed by Isaac M. Singer, deceased, in July last, was yesterday delivered to R. W. Van Pelt, counsel for the claimant (Mrs. Foster), by David Hawley, the executor named in the testamentary document already admitted to probate by the Surrogate of Westchester county. It will be observed that it is drawn in strict accordance with the technical instructions given by the English attorney, extracts from whose confidential letters appeared exclusively in the HERLALD of last Sunday. The will reads as follows:—

English attorney, extracts from whose considential letters appeared exclusively in the Hanald of last Sunday. The will reads as follows:—

mark

Signed by she said Isaac Merritt Singer, the testator, as and for his last will and festiment, in the presence of us, being presents the same time, who, at his request, in his presence and in the presence of each other, hereante subscribed our names as witnesses, the same having been previously read and explained to him.

JOHN CUSHIMG, Oldway, Paignton, South Devon; W. JENNINIS, Paintor, Paignton, South Devon; MARY JONES, Paignton, South Devon; MARY do settle upon the English vidow and her children the property in England which Singer possessed at the time this deed was executed (August 20, 1873), but it was condemned by the English lawyers on the ground that Singer had married her by collusion, under an assumed name, and that she was not in Jaw his wife.

This last testamentary instrument was intended to settle the same property upon her and her children, by devise, which requires no consideration to uphoid it; and also his additional property in England, acquired slace the making of the trust deed, and which would not pa-s under the deed, even if the same were declared to be valid, and which subsequently acquired property is understood to be upwards of 33,000,000 and consists mostly in United States government bonda, registered. It is evident, therefore, that

THE OBJECT AND EFFECT OF THIS LAST WILL (executed by the testator when he was in extremis, only nine days before his death, and by making his mark), it sustained, would be to withdraw all the property in registered. It is evident, therefore, that THE OBJECT AND EFFECT OF THIS LAST WILL (executed by the testator when he was in extremis, only nine days before his death, and by making his mark), if sustained, would be to withdraw all the property in England devised by it from the operation of the will of 1870, which, by its express terms, disposed of the entire estate of the testator, of what nature or kind soever and wherever simuted, and settle it exclusively upon the English legatees.

It is further evident that the document now brought to light purports and was intended to be and is a full and complete last will and testament of the testator, for it gives and devises all the rest of his estate (atter disposing of that portion in England) to the persons named and as the same is given in his will made at Paris July 16, 1870, and it designates and describes the English legatees in such a manner as that they would take under it, even if they were rejected for illegitimacy from the will or 1870.
The prior will ceases to be in and by itself any will whatever; it merely becomes auxiliary to and serves to supply the information requisite to the understanding and execution of the instrument of July last, the same as relerence is made to the trust deed, to show upon what trusts the property in England is devised.

Mrs. Foster complains that both the making and the suppression of this last document was a fraud upon her, for by its making she would have been deprived of her distributive share of the personal legacies which might lapse to the estate from the English legatees, in the event of her being declared the widow of the testator; and by its suppression she was deprived of the evidence contained upon its very face in support of her claim.

evidence contained upon its very face in support of ner claim.

The American legateos under the first will also complain that they are defrauded out of their share of the estate in England, which would almost double their leganes, by the contrivance of this last secret will, which they now hear of for the first time, after it has been admitted to probate in England, without notice or any opportunity to them to uppose it.

Evidently this Singer case, with its wills and wives, women, children and millions, is becoming somewhal complicated. It is understood that Commodore Connelius K. Garrison is aiding Mrs. Foster in the prosecution of her claim.

AMUSEMENTS.

GILMORE'S GARDEN-MAX MARETZEK.

GILMORE'S GARDEN—MAX MARETZEK.

Quite a change for the better has taken place in this beautiful garden. Max Maretzek has replaced the incompetent conductor that alternated wish Offenbach, and a marked improvement is visible. The veteran operatic manager who has passed over a quarter of a century in musical harness and whose musical attainments and exportence in every banch of the divine art are recognized everywhere, was welcomed back to the orchestral stand by such an outborst of entiusism as has been seldom known in this city. The impresarior was obliged to bow his acknowledgments over and over again before he was permitted to resume the baton, so conducted the following works with an elan and spirit that roused the audience to a degree of enthusiasm intherto unknown in filmore's Garden;—Overture, "Ha Gazza Ladra," Rossin (one of the choicest morecant of the tertile Swan of Pesaro); an effective liniass from "Lohengrin;" the overture to the "Daughter of the Regiment;" the march from the "Prophet," and Maretzek's "Eric Galop."

The salop is entirely characteristic of the composer and gives the idea in the best musical language of sixty miles an hour on a HERALD train. It was tumultuously encored. M. Offenbach conducted some of his own works, but the effect of them seemed to suffer considerally beside the fine compositions that accompanied them. Mr. Henry Korvalski, pianist, will play the two last novements of Weber's "Concertation."

MUSICAL AND DEAMATIC NOTES.

The management of Central Park Garden wish to combine Thomas and Downing in future concerts. Mr. Butler, of the Globe Theatre, announces the arrival of the Briang family and the Count of Cagliostro, who ought to have been dead long ago, but who, it appears, still lives. Mr. Thorne's benefit this afternoon at the Union Mr. Thorne's benefit this afternoon at the Union Square Theatre will be interesting not only from the popularity of the actor, but because of the uniform merit of the performance. "The Hunenback" will present this fine artist in one of his most effective parts—Sir Thomas Chiford—and will introduce Miss ids Jeffres for the first time in the charming part of Julia. The rest of the cast is strong, including Mr. Fred. Robinson as Master Walter, and theatre-goers have reason to anticipate an entertainment of unusual brilliancy.

STEAMER GRAND REPUBLIC.

NEW ORLEANS, May 24, 1876. NEW ORLEANS, May 24, 1876.

At seven o'clock this evening the Emperor, Empress and suite arrived here on board the steamer Grand Republic after a pleasant but somewhat slow voyage from St. Louis. Their Majesties enjoyed the trip very much, but were somewhat disappointed by the deserted appearance of the river above Baton Rouge, they having formed the opinion that the whole valley of the Mississippi was almost entirely under cultivation. Cairo and Memphis were passed at night, so that it was not Memphis were passed at night, so that it was not until Vicksburg was reached that their Majesties had an opportunity of seeing any of the secondary

The Emperor refused to go on shore at Vicksburg as his visit would have delayed the steamer, and afterwards he decided not to land at any point before reaching New Orleans—a resolution to which and hered strictly. Stoppages were made during daylight at Natchez and Baton Rouge. The Mayor of the latter city telegraphed an invitation to His Majesty to pay an informal wish to the public institutions of the place, but it was declined with ore reaching New Orleans—a resolution to which he steamer was invaded by crowds of curious citizens of all classes and conditions, who took possession of the saloon and stared the imperial visitors out of countenance until the steamer's bell would ring out the warning for the departure, when our not over welcome visitors would scamper off and leave their Majesties in peace. The Emperor bore this infliction with stoic fortitude, but it proved too much for the Empress on one or two occasions, and Her Majesty was obliged attentions of the parti-colored mob. At Natchez the ladies came out in force and offered an agreewere accompanied by a local prima donna who sang a number of songs for the entertainment of their

The voyage from St. Louis here offered a pleasant and welcome change from the railroad travelling of the preceding month, and though the Emperor chafed a little under the delay in coming down the sideration it has been an advantage, because it afforded rest that he very much needed. The first night on board the steamer His Majesty's rest was very broken, but the five days' repose which he has enjoyed has quite restored him to his usual vigorous

The Empress is also well in health. As the steamer Grand Republic passed the ship-British steamer. Many ships were decked with bunting, and as the Grand Republic passed the ship-ping the flags were dipped in honor of the imperial visitors. His Majesty stood at the guard and

OUR MARINE CORRESPONDENCE.

New Pour, R. I., May 24, 1876.

During the thick fog Monday night the schr Catherine May, from Philadelphia for Boston, and the 3-masted schr Henry J May, from Philadelphia for Lynn, west ashors about the same time on the south end of Block Island. Guerrybut Wrecking Company made scontract for $2,000 for the former and $3,000 for the latter to get them off. They got the Henry J May off last night and sent word here by a fishing smack for the revenue cutter Samuel Doxter, as they could not tow her to this port, as she had test her rudder and was leaking. The cutter promptly went to her assistance and took her in tow. Soon after getting beyond the island the task of towing her was so difficult, owing to the loss of her rudder, that a steam vessed was signalled to assist. After reaching this port she was towed to Fail River for repairs. Advices from Block Island this evening state that the Untherine W May was floated and on her way to this port in charge of the weekless. A committee of the Independent Wrecking Company have arrived here to prevent the payment of the claim of the successful wrecker, claiming as a reason, that they are entitled to a share in the proceeds, according to the jart in successful wrecker, claiming as a reason, that they are entitled to a share in the proceeds, according to the last that the vessels were gotten of without scarcely any trouble. In feet the Henry J May would have come of without assistance.

Arrived this AM, New York Coast Wrecking Company's steamer Lackawama, for the purpose of looking after brig Provence I levelstrone, proposed to looking after brig Provence I levelstrone for mass and cut hot, down and brought her into this port. The steamer is uninquired.

MARITIME MISCELLANY. NEWPORT, R. I., May 24, 1876.

BARR RESERVED CARVANA Johnson, before reported sahore near Little Egg Harbor, was gotten off at 6 PM 23d, and towed to the Coast Wrocking Co's dock at Status Island.

1856, now in this port, has been sold for Norwegian accounts at a private price.

Schield K Mundell, in charge of the mate, when nearing New Loudon harbor 226, on her trip up from New York, where she had left a large loud of hallbut, struck a rock and at once commenced leaking badly. A tag went to her assistance and brought her op, and after her ice, left over from the trip, had been removed, she was taken around to Bragaw's ways, where she will be insuled up for repairs.

Schield Strucky Andrew Strucky Hawen since the 4th inst, came of night of 226.

SCHE J B ALLEN, from Belfast, Me, for New York, which had been ashore at Vineyard Haven since the 4th inst, came of night of 22d.

SCHE L STURDEN ANT, from Newbern for Philadelphin, before reported taken to Newbern May 21, will proceed to destination with her cargo.

SCHE CAROLISY VINEYAL Hayde, or Tappahannock, Va, leaded with wood for Wim Michael, of Baltimore, spring aleak in the Uneapacks Bay atternoon of 22d about 2 o'cock, from a rat hole in her centre well. Finding the water gaining on her hast the captain put into Afragolis, where the vessel sunk about 5 o'clock. Part of the wood has been taken from the vessel and she is now floating.

SCHE M A McGahlan-Schr Bonnie Eloise (of Provincetown), SHive, for Block Hand Sching ground, in going out of Newport, 23d inst, collided with schooner M A McGahlan, collided with schooner M A McGahlan, lying at anchor in the inner harbor, carrying away the former's bowspert close to the stem.

SKANTED FAULINE WILDOUR, 'Captain Gray, in going through the lower bridge at Tiverton on the 22d, strack a large rack in the slew, stove a hole in her bottom under the engine, and it was with great difficult for successed in reaching Pail River to get her on the marine raiway.

Capt Henderson, of the brig Florence Henderson, returns his thanks to Capt Carson and officers of the cutter 8 Dexter for their prempt assistance in getting the vessel' of the rocks near Beaver Tail LightLouse and towing her into Newport.
